Hi guys,

This semester we are going to be working together on an integrated project. The activities I have included will necessitate working together in a group of three. For our first activity using the wiki area in The Learning Place we are going to talk about your experiences with group work. I want you to all make a contribution- both positive and negative. We want to be able to get the best we can out of working with other people. Next year when you enter the workforce being able to work with others will be very important. Hopefully the skills you learn this semester will enable you to be better prepared for the vocational tasks you will encounter in the future.

So gather your thoughts together and lets go,

Mrs Clewett

WORKING IN GROUPS Positives - you can share ideas with each other so you can do a better job at work. - someone to talk to. - you have a chance to pick up new skills from other members of the group. Negatives - you might have arguments. - there may be disagreements which may cause members of the group being left out. - some people doing more work than others. - people slacking off.

okay,,,,,,,,,,,,, wel i think working in a group gives both an advantage and disadvantage. if you don't entirely understand what is being asked of you the other members of your group can help. a disadvantage includes if another member of your group is slacking off it may result in your assignment as a whole being less effective. aka not getting the money!!

Hey Mrs Clewett ! Here are my thoughts on working as a group. I think this activity will help whilst working as a group it will give us the skills to prepare ourselves when we do go out in the workforce next year. Some of the skills that you may get are - advantages -- - better communication skills - pick up other skills from group members - experience working as group - skills working with other people disadvantages-- -disagreements with others from your group

Positives of working in groups is that you get a mixture of new ideas so you can form a really good idea and negatives are that some people in the group may think that their ideas are better so it would cause arguments amongst the group.

Positives for working in groups is that you can share ideas, can talk about ideas. Negatives for working in a team is that some members might get left out, some people don't do work and leave the work to the others.

working in a group...hmmm, ok some good things are if all went well (hopefully) you would all have divided the work evenly. Shareing the work can be easier if every one did there bit. ummm negatives- sometimes people dont do there fair share of work. There can be disagreeemnets between group members, eaither a personality clash or clash of morals, or even clash of belifs. Groups can work, but only if every one does there fair share.

Hmmm Well I guess it can be both a good thing and a bad thing. A good thing - you'll have pople to talk to, if you cant understand something just another person your gruop (They might know). The bad things - Other group members may be away somethimes, Arguements, work load not shared evenly. Yes well i still havent decided if its a good thing or but at the moment its good coz Dee has good music on her usb and we can work along to the music. Yay
